++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells to start, but an increasingly cloudy afternoon.

Today:
Showers dying out in the west through the day. After a frosty start elsewhere, a dry morning with sunny spells. Clouding over from the north later with showery rain arriving. Lighter winds than of late, but still feeling cold. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud and rain quickly moving south through the evening, leaving clear intervals for the early hours. Temperatures dropping off under these, with a widespread, locally sharp, frost developing inland. Minimum temperature -5 deg C (23 deg F).

Monday:
Very chilly to begin. Remaining dry with occasional sunny spells, the best of these in the east. Still rather cold for most but turning milder in the far west. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Windier again by Tuesday with outbreaks of rain, but also feeling a bit milder. Blustery and showery on Wednesday, though turning colder again. Showers largely easing through Thursday.
